Port Congestion Surcharge For Feeder Transportation To/From West China

As a result of serious port congestion in Three Gorges Dam on the Yangtze River in China over the past few weeks, vessels have encountered serious delay. The transportation of the Yangtze River requires more time compared with the regular service, average waiting time is more than 15 days. The transit time for feeder transportation to/from West China (common loading ports are Chongqing, Luzhou, Yibin) which is required around 20 to 22 days.

Effective of 16 January 2018 until further notice, "Port Congestion Charge" of RMB 510 / 810 / 810 per 20' / 40' / 40'HQ, which is to be collected at Port of Loading. In additions, for those 20' containers which over 10 tons are being rejected.

In order to reduce the congestion waiting time, customers is recommended to choose either inland trucking solution to Shanghai (transit time with around 3 days) for connecting export vessel or railway service for European traffic (full trip transit time with around 15-20 days).
